

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides (+)-Peloruside A and analogs thereof having microtubule-stabilizing activity, and a process for synthesizing these compounds. Also provided are intermediates and a process for synthesizing thereof. These compounds exhibit antiproliferative activity and are useful for treating cancer.